

Problem - An interactive way to view the night sky.

---

We all look in the night sky clueless about what we are seeing. An app that tells you information about the cosmos will be fascinating and engaging. Being out at night brings out the curiosity within us. Someone can be looking at a giant star or planet without knowing.

The personas I created are examples of people who may use the app and what they may expect.